00:36
let me repeat that for you guys for 00:39
everybody that didn't hear that for 00:42
everybody that didn't hear I'm gonna say it again the Surgeon General in a stunning turn of events Surgeon General Jerome Adams explained in an interview on live XM radio that the corona virus Task Force has effectively dumped the Bill Gates Centers for Disease Control and the World Health Organization predictive contagion model and is now working with the real data he explained on Sirus XM Breitbart news host Alex Marlowe that given the new data businesses will begin to reopen as early as May others in June as early as May we're already open and we're going to continue to be open this cont this runs contrary to the out of fear mongering of dr. Fauci and Bill Gates who have made a media tour threatening the public that businesses may not reopen for six months to a year or until the unless government's purchase that conveniently patented big form of vaccinations according to Adams what the American people need to know is we actually have data and so we're tracking that data before his about-face which appears to have come as an order from the Trump administration who yeah and in consultation with the findings of dr. Adams the taskforce was working with predictive models which have been created by the Bill Gates dominated World Health Organization and the Centers for Disease Control dr. fauci's control over the CDC has been criticized in the past for its it for profit motive and the handling of ranges of illnesses from HIV to h1n1 dude I'm telling you guys this is the biggest thing that's happened in in this whole movement we are now locked in step barrel I mean we this is this is the biggest news so guys now is this is the biggest news so guys now is the momentum everything that we've been saying everything I've been saying everything the doctor the other doctors have been saying the ones that have been not fear-mongering the ones that are saying fear among you stay in your houses stay 13 feet away from yourself that's the kind of BS that they just I can't even I can't even justify them because if they had any scientific integrity or if they had him one freaking synapse meaning that there were one neuron short of a synapse they they would have never said that because everything they were saying was just not based on science now thank God the Surgeon General and no matter what you say about President Trump he's just shown that they are moving in the right direction so this is fantastic news for the country it's fantastic news for the world and for the rest of the people out there that had their head so far up you know you know what tell them that they should never ever ever allow themselves to be fear motivated like this that the truth is the truth and too jaded with misinformation and in the hype that the that the media is put out there and file cheese model and Gates's model this is this is so exciting so listen guys I'm not going to keep on blaming the point but pass this on pay forward let the world know this is happening because the gates CDC vouching model has just been dropped on its head and cracked open like a rotten egg I'm so happy right now paid forward pass it on love you guys
