Chicago mayor Lori Lightfoot had entire neighborhood's cars towed to stop a church from having services by Jim Stone 5.20.20

The following has been TOTALLY censored from the MSM, this is the only place you are going to see it.

After going over the story real closely on this police officer's page the outcome was not what the mayor wanted. It also proves she would not be able to think her way out of a paper bag.

The mayor's goal: To tow every car of everyone who attended church services.

The outcome: No church service attendees got towed, everyone else in the entire neighborhood did and it was a disaster involving countless cars that were perfectly legally parked when the signs went up.

Here's a summary of what happened: The mayor wanted to shut down a church. So on Saturday night, the mayor put up temporary no-parking signs in an entire neighborhood, while normal residents of the neighborhood had their cars totally legally parked and were sleeping and in the morning, at 7 AM she had had a mob of tow trucks totally ready to arrive to take EVERYONE's cars. They did. All cars were gone in a very short time - including those of people who were legally parked in front of their homes. Problem: The church had a contract with a bank and other businesses to use their parking lots, so all the parishoners (for the morning service) parked their cars in these lots. So none got towed.

When the mayor heard what happened and that only normal residents plus medical workers and others who normally parked on the streets in that area got towed, the mayor flipped out and for the next services had police cars block entrances to the parking lots the church used to force churchgoers to park on the street where they would be towed. That was totally against the law, but the mayor - a well established communist - did it anyway. By that time, the church knew what was going on and warned everyone.

RESULT: Zero church cars towed and one very pissed off neighborhood.

This is the type of thing that should trigger an impeachment of the mayor. Lori Lightfoot is a lesbian who is currently "married" to another woman, who campaigned for her position on the principles of "Equity, Diversity & Inclusion, Transparency, Accountability, and Transformation. Never mind the fact that she was probably rigged into power, let's say it like it is:
A lesbian "equitably and transparently" ambush posted no parking signs in the dead of night on a totally unaware neighborhood for the purpose of "diversity and inclusion" of a CHRISTIAN church and "transformed" the entire neighborhood into a no-parking zone, and then forced "accountability" on residents, who had no clue what happened or why. What a way to fulfill a campaign promise. But that's how leftists do it, and this gal is a PRIME EXAMPLE.
