World Headlines 🇺🇸 WHY GOD... WHY?

I honestly can't stop thinking about what Donald Trump did today. Inside the newly restored White House Rose Garden, President Trump hosted a Mother's Day luncheon unlike anything most Americans have ever seen. Not for celebrities. Not for political elites. But for the mothers carrying the deepest pain imaginable. Gold Star mothers who lost sons and daughters in service to this country. Angel Moms grieving children taken from them far too soon. Trump stood before them and called them what they truly are: heroic mothers.

One of the most emotional moments came when he spoke directly to Alicia Lopez, mother of Marine Corporal Hunter Lopez, who was killed at Abbey Gate at only 22 years old. Trump quietly said, "That should have never happened." He also honored Janice Chance, whose son, Marine Captain Jesse Melton, volunteered to take another Marine's place. Trump repeated Jesse's final words to his mother: "I want to go change the world and make it an even better place."

Then came the moment that broke the room. Trump asked two grieving mothers a simple question: "Does the pain ever get easier?" Both answered the same way: "No." And instead of speaking over them, he listened.

No politics. No performance. Just brokenhearted mothers being seen, heard, and honored. This was actually Trump's second Mother's Day event this week — after already hosting military mothers earlier in the week. While most leaders post a message online, he chose to spend time with the mothers many people forget after the headlines fade.

Tonight, say a prayer for every mother who sat in that Rose Garden carrying unimaginable grief. May God hold them close and give them strength. 🙏🇺🇸 President Trump Delivers Remarks, May 8, 2026

Mr. STEVE BANNON'S/TRUMP' NEWS ON EBS BLACKOUT AND NESARA GESARA/QFS GROUP · Charlie Ward · 2h ·

Today, you are witnessing their "End of the World." An announcement was made today; the Treasury Department has confirmed it. For the first time in American history, the signature of a sitting President will appear on every single dollar bill—Donald J. Trump. They will tell you that this is to mark the 250th anniversary. They will tell you that this is an unprecedented occurrence. But this is not a celebration; it is a takeover. This is the final, public execution of the Federal Reserve—the private banking cartel that has oppressed humanity for 111 years—which is now being signed out of existence. Trump's Executive Order 13959 served as the silent fuse. This is the visible confirmation. Every single banknote is now a symbol—a promise—of the transition to the Quantum Financial System (QFS). This is no longer a secret; it is unfolding right before your very eyes. Worthless paper currency is being marked for obsolescence before the final switch is flipped. The corrupt actors are being purged from the system. This is the move that defeats the 13 ruling families; their source of power has been dismantled, and the one person they could not stop is >>the man who signed the approval<<. What happens when the money is no longer theirs? ### Donald Trump For President

VIVEK RAMASWAMY SWEEPS OHIO, VOWS FULL DOGE MODE TO SLASH WASTE AND RETURN CASH TO TAXPAYERS

Fresh off a dominating victory where he won every single county in Ohio's GOP gubernatorial primary, Vivek Ramaswamy is charging ahead with a no-nonsense plan to drain the swamp in Columbus. In a Fox News interview, the Republican nominee made it crystal clear: government bloat ends now. "If you have a broken window somewhere, it's a reminder that we have to take a systematic look at the whole thing," Ramaswamy said. "That's what we're going to do, save those dollars and put it BACK in the pockets of Ohioans where it belongs."

He didn't stop there. Ramaswamy pledged to turn Ohio into a shining example of fiscal sanity for the entire country. "And that, I hope, is going to serve as a positive model, not a reactionary model, a positive model for the rest of the country." The core message hits hard: respect for the people footing the bill. "Ultimately, the taxpayer deserves to be treated with the respect that every American citizen is owed! This is exactly what conservatives have been demanding—real efficiency, zero tolerance for fraud and abuse, and money returned to hardworking families instead of feeding endless bureaucracy. After years of RINO failures and Democrat-style spending sprees, Ohio just picked a fighter ready to deliver results and keep the state deep red. Common sense is winning.

A new nuclear diamond battery could power devices for over 5,000 years without charging.

Imagine a battery that never needs charging, never dies, and keeps going for thousands of years. That's not science fiction anymore. Scientists from the University of Bristol and the UK Atomic Energy Authority have just revealed a coin-sized diamond battery powered by carbon-14—a radioactive isotope with a half-life of 5,730 years. That means this battery can produce tiny amounts of power for literally millennia.

Here's how it works: the battery takes radioactive carbon-14 (normally used in carbon dating) and safely encases it inside a man-made diamond. As the carbon-14 decays, it gives off energetic electrons, which the diamond collects and converts into electricity. Think of it like a solar panel—but instead of catching light, it captures particles from radioactive decay. Don't worry about safety. The diamond casing doesn't just generate power—it acts as a shield, preventing any radiation from escaping. The result is a super-stable, low-power battery that can quietly run for thousands of years without a single recharge.

You won't be using one in your phone anytime soon though. The power output is tiny—just microwatts—so it's best for things like pacemakers, implants, underwater sensors, satellites, and deep-space probes. And since the carbon-14 comes from recycled nuclear waste, it's a clever way to reuse radioactive material that would otherwise sit around unused.
