Based on conversations with Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and Field Marshal Asim Munir, of Pakistan, and wherein they requested that I hold off the destructive force being sent tonight to Iran, and subject to the Islamic Republic of Iran agreeing to the complete, immediate, and safe opening of the Strait of Hormuz, I agree to suspend the bombing and attack of Iran for a period of two weeks. This will be a double sided ceasefire! The reason for doing so is that we have already met and exceeded all military objectives, and are very far along with a definitive agreement concerning longterm peace with Iran, and peace in the Middle East. We received a 10 point proposal from Iran, and believe it is a workable basis on which to negotiate. Almost all of the various points of past contention have been agreed to between the United States and Iran, but a two week period will allow the agreement to be finalized and consummated. On behalf of the United States of America, as President, and also representing the countries of the Middle East, it is an honor to have this longterm problem close to resolution. Thank you for your attention to this matter!

PRESIDENT DONALD J. TRUMP

Donald Trump For President

Iranians in Exile Cheer as Trump's Strikes Shatter the Mullahs' Grip Huge crowds of Iranian expatriates flooded the streets in Canadian cities, waving the pre-1979 Lion and Sun flags alongside American and Canadian ones. They danced, chanted, and openly thanked President Trump for finally hitting the brutal Islamic regime hard. After 47 years of oppression, torture, and terror under the ayatollahs, these freedom-loving Iranians see real hope. No more hijab police beating women, no more funding Hamas and Hezbollah, no more screaming "Death to America" while the people starve. Trump didn't send pallets of cash like Obama or bow to the mullahs. He took decisive action with strikes that weakened their nuclear ambitions and terror machine. The diaspora knows it: the regime is cracking, and freedom is closer than ever. While regime thugs inside Iran force kids into human shield lines around their weapons sites, exiles in Toronto and beyond are celebrating the beginning of the end. The Iranian people deserve better than this medieval nightmare. The message is clear: real leadership brings results. Weakness invites more terror. Trump is delivering what weak-kneed globalists never could. The fall of the Islamic Republic can't come soon enough.

Donald Trump For President Iranian Freedom Fighters Hit Back Hard: Drive-By Shooting Kills Two Regime Enforcers Near Qom The Islamic Republic is crumbling from the inside. While American and Israeli strikes pound the mullahs from above, ordinary Iranians are rising up with drive-by attacks against the regime’s security thugs. On April 8, members of the newly formed Homeland Defenders Organization ambushed a NAJA checkpoint in Saveh, near the holy city of Qom. They killed two officers in a swift strike that proves the regime’s enforcers are no longer safe anywhere in the country. Nighttime video from the scene shows vehicles with headlights slicing through the dark, sudden flashes of gunfire, drifting smoke, and figures scrambling at the checkpoint. A voice rings out clearly in Persian: “I give my life for Iran.” That battle cry captures the raw determination of patriots fighting to free their homeland from decades of Islamist tyranny.

Attacks like this are multiplying. Drive-by shootings targeting NAJA and Basij forces are becoming more frequent, exposing how stretched and vulnerable the regime’s repressive machine has become. The mullahs’ grip is slipping. With pressure mounting from outside and rebellion growing inside, their brutal rule is headed for collapse. Iranians are taking their country back, one checkpoint at a time. Sources: Visegrád 24 report and associated video footage, April 2026.

Military History · Follow An A-10 Thunderbolt II (Warthog) successfully returned to base after sustaining more than 150 battle damage holes from intense enemy ground fire during a combat mission. Despite the severity of the damage, the aircraft remained flyable, and the pilot landed safely without injury. 🇺🇸🇬 The strikes knocked out two of the aircraft’s hydraulic systems, which are typically responsible for controlling its flight surfaces. In most situations, this level of damage would make the aircraft impossible to fly. However, the A-10 is built with a unique survivability feature known as manual reversion. This system provides a purely mechanical backup, allowing the pilot to control the aircraft without hydraulic assistance through direct linkages to the control surfaces. By engaging manual reversion, the pilot managed to retain control and successfully return the badly damaged aircraft to base. The A-10 was later repaired and returned to operational service, further demonstrating the aircraft’s exceptional durability and combat survivability. Captain Campbell’s skill and calm decision-making under fire earned widespread recognition and helped solidify the A-10’s legendary reputation among both pilots and ground forces who rely on its close air support capabilities. 🇺🇸🇬

Numerous Agreements, Lists, and Letters are being sent out by people that have absolutely nothing to do with the U.S.A. / Iran Negotiation, in many cases, they are total Fraudsters, Charlatans, and WORSE. They will be rapidly exposed after our Federal Investigation is completed. There is only one group of meaningful "POINTS" that are acceptable to the United States, and we will be discussing them behind closed doors during these Negotiations. These are the POINTS that are the basis on which we agreed to a CEASEFIRE. It is something that is reasonable, and can easily be dispensed with. It's very much like Fake News CNN last night, headlining a "source" that had no power or authority to write a Letter claiming great authority. President DONALD J. TRUMP

The CIA just revealed it has a tool that can detect your heartbeat from 40 miles away — and it used it for the first time to rescue a downed American pilot hiding in the mountains of Iran. The details: The technology, called "Ghost Murmur," uses quantum magnetometry to detect the electromagnetic signature of a human heartbeat, then pairs that data with AI to isolate the signal from background noise.

Big quote: CIA Director John Ratcliffe described the technology, saying: "It's like hearing a voice in a stadium, except the stadium is a thousand square miles of desert." It was developed by Lockheed Martin's Skunk Works division. Back up: The missing weapons systems officer, known only as "Dude 44 Bravo," had survived two days hiding in a mountain crevice after his F-15 was shot down, with Iranian troops hunting him and a bounty on his head. Dude 44 Bravo activated a Boeing-made survival beacon, but his exact location was not clear to rescue teams until Ghost Murmur locked onto his signal. The signal: This is one of those cutting-edge technological revelations that makes our enemies say, "What else do the Americans have up their sleeves?" The last word goes to President Donald Trump, who told the NY Post: "We have many other things that nobody has ever heard about. We have equipment the likes of which nobody has ever even thought about."

[Source: NY Post]

Maureen McKnight Winans JUST IN: Saudi Arabia fully restores East-West oil pipeline, bypassing the Strait of Hormuz and pumping 7,000,000 barrels per day. Three days ago on April 9, Saudi Arabia's Ministry of Energy reported that Iranian attacks cut their East-West pipeline throughput by ~700,000 barrels per day. They also mentioned production cuts totaling 600k barrels per day at the Manifa and Khurais fields. Today they announced that the East-West pipeline and energy facilities damaged in recent attacks by Iran have restored full operational capacity and the pipeline is now pumping ~7 million barrels per day. Manifa field production also recovered its lost volume of about 300,000 barrels per day. The East-West pipeline carries crude from eastern fields to the Red Sea port of Yanbu, allowing Saudi Aramco to bypass the Strait of Hormuz (due to the ongoing war in Iran). Repairs at the Khurais field are still ongoing and the ministry said it will issue a separate announcement once Khurais returns to full production.

Donald Trump For President Iranian from inside IRAN explains what's happening in the country: "Speaking as someone inside Iran who stayed connected through Starlink during the total blackout, I can sincerely affirm the real mood across the country right now: We are relieved the ceasefire negotiations collapsed. The spirit inside Iran and the genuine desires of the people stand totally against any truce or bargaining with this brutal regime — particularly figures like Ghalibaf, a murdering psychopath who has countless Iranian blood on his hands. Every form of engagement or compromise with the Islamic Republic is strongly opposed by ordinary Iranians. We are determined to complete the uprising we launched in January. Any support the international community — above all the United States — can offer is deeply appreciated. For nearly five decades we have suffered relentless torture, sexual violence, executions, degradation, and sorrow at the hands of this tyranny. The outside world has no real grasp of the extent of our pain. The Iranian public feels zero concern for Hezbollah, yet the regime is ready to endanger the entire nation for them. the well-being of their own citizens. We exhausted every peaceful option: huge street demonstrations, open resistance, attempts at gradual reform, dialogue — you name it. None succeeded. The regime's consistent reply has been gunfire, nooses, and fresh waves of fear. With the talks now broken down, I'm writing this from inside Iran with mixed emotions of anxiety, hope and grief. Whatever unfolds from here, most Iranians will feel a sense of release. No price is too steep to get rid of this evil regime and the price of letting this nightmare drag on is far greater, and for many of us, even dying feels better than one more day under these monsters. This reflects the authentic voice of the majority of Iranians — a people who frequently lack internet access, global reach, or any platform to speak. When we lose internet access, the Iranian diaspora becomes our voice abroad. While the ceasefire talks dragged on, they took to the streets in protest, clearly showing the world that we reject any negotiation with this regime and want Crown Prince Reza Pahlavi to represent the Iranian people — because no one inside this regime ever can. As I have said before, the world will soon see why we declare: Anything for freedom. Anything to destroy this evil."

BREAKING: $540M SHIFTED INTO SOIL RESTORATION AND REGENERATIVE AGRICULTURE. LESS PESTICIDE EXPOSURE. HEALTHIER SOIL. MORE NUTRIENTS IN THE FOOD SUPPLY.

WHEN THE FOUNDATION OF OUR FOOD SYSTEM HEALS, THE NEXT GENERATION HAS A CHANCE TO THRIVE. REAL CHANGE STARTS FROM THE GROUND UP.

Carnivore Dude · Follow

April 3 at 8:09 PM ·

Major funding moves rarely make headlines unless they involve war, technology, or big corporations. But sometimes the biggest shift happens quietly beneath our feet. Reports indicate that more than $540 million has recently moved toward soil restoration and regenerative agriculture projects. That means healthier soil ecosystems, fewer chemical inputs, and a stronger foundation for the food supply millions of families rely on every day. Supporters of regenerative farming say rebuilding soil biology can reduce pesticide exposure, improve nutrient density in crops, and restore farmland that has been degraded for decades. Others argue it represents a long overdue shift in how we think about food production and long-term health. When soil improves, everything above it improves too — plants, animals, and eventually people. If the foundation of agriculture changes, the entire future of food could change with it.

HEALTH BREAKTHRU - Alzheimer's In 2011, a neuroscientist at MIT named Dr. Li-Huei Tsai made a discovery that should have been on the front page of every newspaper on Earth. She exposed mice with advanced Alzheimer's disease to (next page)

a flickering light pulsing at exactly 40 Hz — forty flashes per second. Nothing else. No drugs. No surgery. Just light at a specific frequency. Within one hour, the amyloid-beta plaques in their brains — the protein deposits that define Alzheimer's — began to dissolve. Not slow. Not gradually. Within sixty minutes. After seven days of daily 40 Hz exposure, plaque levels dropped by 50%. The mice regained memory function. Their neurons began firing in synchrony again. The brain's immune cells — microglia — activated and started clearing the toxic buildup like a cleaning crew that had been asleep for years. The study was published in Nature. The most prestigious scientific journal on the planet. Peer-reviewed. Replicated. Confirmed. That was 2016. It is now 2026. 40 million people worldwide have Alzheimer's. The pharmaceutical industry generates $13 billion per year from Alzheimer's drugs that do not reverse the disease. Not one of them. They slow it. Maybe. Temporarily. At $26,000 per year per patient. A 40 Hz light costs less than a dollar to produce. Dr. Tsai is still at MIT. Her research continues. Phase III human trials are underway. But you will not see this on the evening news. You will not hear your doctor mention it. You will not find it in any pharmacy. Because a frequency that costs nothing cannot sustain a $13 billion industry. The light is 40 Hz. The frequency is real. The science is published. And 40 million people are still waiting for permission to use it. <https://x.com/i/status/2041739428205621327> Sec. of HHS is waiting to hear from you!
