The Post-WWII Patriot Tradition: Historically, after World War II, brave soldiers returned home, ignited the baby boom, and built their dreams. When a family fully paid off their mortgage, they mounted a Golden Eagle on their house as a badge of honor. The Ultimate Declaration of Liberty: This emblem was a loud, public statement that meant: "I am free! I am completely out of debt! The house is paid for, and I am a free person!" Trump's Sovereign Gift to the Nation: In a historic, deeply symbolic gesture, Donald Trump has placed this exact emblem on the White House. The message is gargantuan: America is debt free!

Lucia Arnaiz is feeling lovely in USA I have never seen a President like this in my entire life. And today — I swear on my own children — if I do not tell you what Donald Trump did last night — I will never forgive myself. Because what this 80 year old man showed the entire world on July 24th is something that will make every single American stand up and salute.

Three months ago — April 25, 2026. Something happened at the White House Correspondents Dinner that shook the entire country. Trump and his entire team were rushed out of that event. The whole world held its breath. And most people assumed — that was it. The event was over. Trump would never go back. No reasonable person — no 80 year old man who had already given everything for this country — would walk back into that room.

Last night — July 24, 2026 — Trump walked back into that room. At the rescheduled dinner at the Waldorf Astoria — with tighter security, National Guard troops outside, two ID checks, officers — Trump arrived. Sat down. And delivered an hour long speech. At 80 years old.

Pray right now — "Lord, protect President Trump always. Give him Your shield and Your strength. Because a man who faces everything the world throws at him — and comes back laughing — deserves Your protection more than anyone I know." Pray for President Trump today — because an 80 year old man who walked back into that room — three months later — laughing and fearless — deserves every salute every American can give him. Salute to Secret Service officer Victor Gonzales — who Trump personally honored last night. And salute to President Trump — who showed the whole world that nothing — absolutely nothing — will ever stop him from showing up for America.

Saudi Arabia Joins U.S. Strikes Against Iranian Proxies in Iraq

"REALITY | Today I finally understood something about Donald Trump that I had been missing this entire time. And when it hit me — it hit me completely. Because look at who this man chose to surround himself with. Not billionaires. Not people born into power. Not people who had everything handed to them.

Karoline Leavitt — 27 years old. Ice cream shop girl from New Hampshire. Trump looked at her and saw something the entire world missed. Made her the youngest Press Secretary in American history.

Susie Wiles — a woman who has spent her whole life quietly strategizing from the background.

No fame. No spotlight. Just pure brilliance. Trump looked at her and said — you will be my Chief of Staff. First female Chief of Staff in American history.

JD Vance — a soldier. A boy from Appalachia who served his country in uniform before he ever served it in office. Trump looked at him and said — you will stand beside me.

Pete Hegseth — a soldier who gave everything on the battlefield. Two Bronze Stars. Trump looked at him and said — you will lead our military.

Marco Rubio — the son of a bartender and a hotel maid. Two immigrants who came to America with nothing. Trump looked at their son and made him the first Latino Secretary of State in American history.

My wife heard all of this tonight and asked — do you understand what Trump actually did?

He did not build a powerful administration. He built an unbreakable one. Because every single person in it knows what it feels like to have nothing. And people who came from nothing never take anything for granted. Tonight say one prayer for this entire administration. And say a bigger one for the man who chose them. If Trump's team just gave you goosebumps tonight — type "TRUMP DIDN'T JUST PICK A CABINET — HE PICKED WARRIORS" below. Then pass this to every American who needed to understand why this administration hits different from every single one that came before it." Via @JamesHu27192912 on X

Bill Brindley Trump's pause on the latest strikes is possibly the last - or close to it - deliberate act of restraint before the end of the Iranian regime.

As detailed in my earlier piece today, the evidence from retired four-star General Jack Keane and Ret. Lt. Gen. Keith Kellogg is clear. We are past negotiations. Iran cheats, reconstitutes, and violates every agreement. Airstrikes alone are insufficient. The only path is decisive, escalatory force - the seizure of Kharg Island, hundreds of precision strikes per night, leadership decapitation, and empowerment of internal resistance. Those who want the full operational case can read that piece.

What Trump is doing right now is establishing for the record that he has made ample efforts to try diplomacy, almost begging for it, and on multiple occasions over many weeks, including this latest pause. He has given Iran every chance to comply, every off-ramp, every opportunity to end the cycle of violation and reconstitution. He does this first so he can live with himself, knowing the full measure of restraint was exhausted. Second, so the world will see, beyond any honest dispute, that the United States under his leadership tried diplomacy repeatedly and in good faith before the final act.

A 5G tower at an elementary school in California has been shut down after multiple students and teachers were diagnosed with cancer. The data is starting to catch up with the marketing. A 2022 review found that 74% of studies showed negative health effects near these towers.

DNA Damage: RF radiation creates micronuclei in the blood—a marker for cancer. We are essentially living in a microwave.

The Blood-Brain Barrier: RFK Jr. has warned for years that 5G disrupts the very shield that protects our brains from toxins.

The Profit over People: Why are these towers near schools? Because the industry prioritizes signal strength over biological safety.

Alaska's Night Sky Turned Into Angel Wings ❄️
Last night, the skies over Alaska delivered a spectacle that looked almost too perfect to be real. Streams of emerald green, violet, gold, and crimson aurora light spread across the darkness, forming what appeared to be a pair of glowing angel wings suspended above the snowy landscape. For a few breathtaking moments, the heavens seemed alive, shifting and flowing with every pulse of solar energy. What you're seeing is the aurora borealis — created when charged particles from the Sun collide with Earth's atmosphere, exciting oxygen and nitrogen high above the Arctic. The result is a living curtain of color that dances across the sky before fading away into the night.

A single ladybug wipes out more than 5,000 aphids across its lifetime — before ever counting its larvae. Each larva locks onto a target, pierces the body, and drains it dry, clearing up to 400 aphids in just 14 days. It isn't a garden helper. It's a precision hunter.
