War Room: <https://www.facebook.com/reel/919138027254520> Minnesota and Colorado are deeply red states that are being held hostage by illegals and other people who have repeated committed vote fraud. Too many of those in office in our counties are doing nothing about getting rid of the communist-controlled Dominion machines. Our Election Integrity Team gave lawful notice, in person and in writing to ALL of the Weld County Colorado officials proving the many laws violated by the County Recorder and team in 2020 and not a single one of them cared about our rights or upholding the law – they are all GOP - which makes all of them worse than RINOs! The people are also to blame by being lazy and not driving a few miles to vote by hand on our ballots. 'Mail in voting' and using machines makes it soooooo easy for the criminals to take over. We need to make the day we vote a Holiday, vote in person with ID at the precincts; vote on a paper ballot and no machine counting. We used to do it all the time by counting ballots at the precincts we had the results that night. We the people watching the counting on a big screen will make it impossible to cheat! Mortgage Status Update and Treasury Realignment January 2026

Over the past several months, significant structural changes have been unfolding inside the U.S. financial and legal framework. What many people are only now beginning to notice publicly has been under review and execution behind the scenes since mid 2025. This update outlines the first phase of those changes as they relate to mortgages, banking authority, and debt structures. Following an extended military and Treasury-led investigation into legacy banking practices, evidence confirmed that mortgage lending for decades operated under fraudulent duplication mechanisms. In numerous cases, the original loan obligation was effectively settled or securitized immediately after signing, while homeowners were still required to continue monthly payments. This created a system of double collection that benefited private banking interests while extracting long-term value from citizens.

As part of the federal realignment process, U.S. banking authority has been consolidated under a restructured Treasury framework. Oversight of legacy banks has shifted away from private central control and into sovereign review channels. This transition is not symbolic. It is operational, and it directly impacts how debt instruments are being evaluated going forward. One of the core findings of the investigation was the historic misuse of foundational identity documents in financial collateralization. Original birth record instruments were retained at the institutional level, monetized through secondary markets, and used as leverage without the knowledge or consent of the individuals involved. This mechanism contributed to hidden balance sheets that fueled long-term debt expansion. That system has now been formally flagged for restitution review.

In January 2026, updated federal directives authorized the legal restructuring of mortgage and consumer debt evaluation. Rather than requiring citizens to initiate claims, the process is being handled internally through Treasury-supervised reconciliation protocols. Banks are undergoing phased audits, and account balances are being reviewed for validity, duplication, and unlawful profit extraction. This phase does not require action from homeowners. No applications are needed. No direct contact with lenders is required. Changes will appear through official account statements and legal notices as reviews are completed. This is not yet the final phase. It is the foundation.

Part 2 will outline how these reviews translate into enforcement actions, foreclosure status changes, and the broader implications for property ownership and taxation as the transition continues. Stay attentive. Structural change does not arrive loudly. It arrives correctly. END OF PART 1
