TRUMP CANCELS NEARLY $1 BILLION FOR ILLEGAL ALIEN AND RACE-BASED PROGRAMS IN ONE STROKE The White House confirmed President Trump has executed a pocket rescission canceling close to $1 billion in previously congressionally-approved funding, sent to Congress in a single notice covering eleven separate cuts.
The two largest targets: $567 million in Health and Human Services grants that funneled taxpayer money to NGOs providing services to non-citizen refugees and asylees, and $10 million for the Minority Business Development Agency's race-based business grants — federal cash handed out according to the skin color of the business owner, not the merit of the business.

According to the New York Post, this is only the second pocket rescission executed in nearly five decades. The maneuver lets a president withhold funds so close to the fiscal year's end that Congress runs out of time to object before the money simply expires. Democrats on the House Budget Committee and even the Government Accountability Office call the tactic illegal; no court has ruled on it yet, and the administration is moving anyway.
Money for people who broke into the country and grants sorted by race — gone in the same stroke of a pen.
If Congress won't cut it, he will.

Politicians Forgot Backup Power When They Pushed Clean Power in 13 States: Now Electric Bills Are Skyrocketing The big lie is that green energy would lower our bills. Janet Lee

America is sleepwalking toward a massive infrastructure crisis. The heavy transformers holding our electrical grid together are aging relics, yet we're slamming them with a massive demand surge from new tech and industry. After two decades of offshoring critical manufacturing, we now rely on foreign supply chains for 80% of our replacements. If the grid buckles, we are practically paralyzed. Lead times for new transformers are pushing 2.5 years, and our nation doesn't have a single training program left to teach Americans how to build them. We are entirely unprepared. Full story here ⬇️https://www.foxnews.com/.../machines-keep-america-alive...

Bill Brindley Venezuela, Iran, Greenland: 'putting China in the energy box'

In the future, once Trump derangement syndrome has dissipated, Trump's foreign policy moves will rightfully be seen in the context of the attached chart. Look at China's rising dependence on imported oil—it is now the world's largest importer by far. The United States, on the hand, imports much less & exports much more. We've been taking market share of global exports during the Hormuz crisis. Our interventions in Venezuela, Iran, & Greenland have different scopes & costs, but what ties them all together is Trump's attempt to put China in a constrained 'energy box' before the country fully electrifies. In our own hemisphere, in critical Middle East oil choke points, & in the arctic rare earth mineral & metal regions, Trump is trying to take control of the energy throttle & impose costs on China.

The Iran conflict probably delayed China's move on Taiwan until next year, because it forced them to lower their imports and burn down strategic petroleum reserves that they had built for their planned Taiwan war. Trump's interventions aren't random thrashing around OR ideological crusades. They're certainly based on the U.S.'s national interests (whether or not his admin, itself of highly variable quality, can actually pull this off). His foreign policy is the most rational, realpolitik one we've had in half a century.

Aided by the US Navy, Saudi, Kuwaiti, Qatari and Emirati oil companies have chartered oil tankers to turn their transponders off and shuttle oil out of the Persian Gulf, through the Strait of Hormuz, to the Gulf of Oman, where they offload their crude to waiting tankers owned by their customers and then head back through the strait. That has taken the costly burden of insurance risk and physical danger of Iranian attacks away from commercial shippers and placed it on the US government and the oil producers themselves. https://cnn.it/46kIIVK

A MASSIVE VICTORY FOR FOOD FREEDOM The war on independent American farmers has officially ended. In a historic May 2026 directive, the MAHA administration has implemented the "Right to Raw" mandate, effectively halting all aggressive FDA raids on independent dairy farmers who provide raw, unpasteurized milk to their local communities.

For 50 years, the medical establishment criminalized nature. They forced the boiling and pasteurization of milk, which completely destroys the bio-active lactase enzyme (the exact enzyme needed to digest dairy), annihilates the living probiotic bacteria, and denatures the immune-boosting proteins. They turned a living superfood into a dead, allergenic liquid. By protecting the legal distribution of Liquid Raw Milk, the administration is giving Americans back their greatest ancestral immune shield.

Clinical research into the "Farm Effect" proves that children who grow up drinking unpasteurized raw milk have drastically lower rates of severe allergies, asthma, and autoimmune diseases. Raw milk physically coats your gut with living beneficial bacteria, training your immune system to tolerate environmental allergens rather than aggressively overreacting to them.

THE VITAL PROTOCOL The era of food fear is over. Seek out raw milk exclusively from certified, pasture-raised, strictly tested local farms. Start with just a half-glass daily to allow your gut microbiome to wake up and adapt to the massive influx of living, biological enzymes! Verified Sources: Department of Agriculture (USDA) and HHS joint "Right to Raw" policy statements protecting independent agricultural commerce and food sovereignty (May 2026).

Moms Across America Follow The persistent presence of glyphosate in our food, as Moms Across America and Children's Health Defense have revealed in our testing, clearly makes glyphosate an HHS and FDA area of focus. Partnership between the HHS and EPA on glyphosate makes sense. We are hoping that this administration will honor its word and reduce our exposure to glyphosate through food with sensible regulations, specifically, ceasing the practice of allowing glyphosate and agrochemicals as drying agents, which would reduce our exposure to glyphosate by 80%. Europe does this, so can we.

Blue Lives Matter Follow BOMBSHELL: An Army flight surgeon says she knows of 29 service members who d*ed following COVID vaccination and has now been assigned to review 2,544 MORE reported de*ths. Lt. Col. Theresa Long made the claims in a sworn declaration filed in federal court. Long is board-certified in aerospace medicine and holds a master's degree in public health. War Secretary Pete Hegseth detailed Long to serve as a senior military medical adviser to Health Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr. Her declaration was filed in litigation pending in the Eastern District of Virginia. "I have first-hand knowledge of over 29 deaths of servicemembers after vaccination with the COVID-19 vaccines," Long wrote. Long said she is reviewing approximately 55,000 adverse-event reports involving members of the Armed Forces. Those reports include 2,544 reported deaths. The 2,544 reports were submitted to the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System. A VAERS report records an event occurring after vaccination but does not, by itself, establish that the vaccine caused it.

Long said she has access to unredacted reports, medical records and some autopsy findings and hopes to complete the review within a year. During an August deposition, she identified 28 cases that she personally attributes to vaccination. She described one service member who d*ed following rapidly progressing esophageal cancer and a student pilot who suffered sudden cardiac deth while operating a helicopter during a training flight. Long said an independent cardiologist examined the pilot's medical history, imaging and laboratory results and identified vaccine-related myocardial injury as the most likely explanation. That conclusion has not been announced as a final government finding. The filing arose in litigation involving Dr. Terry Adirim, a former acting assistant defense secretary for health affairs under Lloyd Austin. Adirim signed the 2021 Pentagon memorandum implementing the military vaccination requirement. More than 96 percent of service members received the vaccine before the mandate was rescinded in January 2023. Earlier Pentagon reviews reported finding no vaccine-caused service-member de*ths, a conclusion Long disputes. Service members and their families deserve a complete investigation based on medical records, autopsies and evidence instead of politics. #Military #COVID 💔🚨America, just now I found out exactly who walked into the White House this week. And when I looked at every single person sitting at that table — I had to put my phone down and just breathe. Xi Jinping. The President of China. The leader of the most powerful nation America has ever had to face across a negotiating table.

Walking into OUR house. On OUR soil.🇺🇸
And sitting across from Donald Trump.
Look at that photograph carefully. Really look at it.
Elon Musk. Tim Cook. America's top business leaders — every single one of them said yes when Trump called. All in one room. All representing 340 million Americans who were going about their day when this moment happened.😭
And then look at Trump sitting right there in the center of it all — composed, completely in control, carrying the full weight of this nation on his shoulders without flinching.
This is what real Presidential power looks like.
Trump did not walk into that room alone.
He walked in with everything America had.
And here is what moved me most.
Xi himself said it — standing right there in the White House — that making America great and the future of China do not have to be enemies. That two great nations can build something better together.
And Trump made that moment possible.
Not with threats. Not with weakness.
With strength. With vision. With the full power of the greatest nation on earth behind him.
God — thank you for this moment.💔😭
Thank you for a President who brings America's full power into every room he walks into.
And please — let every conversation that happened in that room this week count for every single American who was trusting him to get it right.😭🙏🇺🇸

Speaking of the brand new Helicopter Pad on the South Lawn of the WH... a pad which can double as a great gathering place for invited guests at WH functions. Let's start with the cost. It's around $5–6 million, for the project that was announced in July 2026. But taxpayers aren't paying for it. It's a permanent granite pad (four inches thick, quarried in California), not just repaved asphalt — replacing the old setup where Marine One landed directly on the South Lawn grass on a simple metal disc.

Why Sikorsky is paying: the newer VH-92A Patriot helicopters (which entered service in 2024, ironically under Biden, but rarely landed at the White House because of this exact problem) are roughly 2.5 times more powerful than the 40-year-old fleet they're replacing, and their rotor wash was tearing up the grass — "ripping it out," in Trump's words, rather than just discoloring it. Trump has said Sikorsky agreed to cover it because the company "felt a little guilty" for not disclosing how disruptive the new helicopters would be. It's technically routed through the National Park Service (which maintains White House grounds), with Lockheed/Sikorsky funding it as a private contribution rather than using taxpayer money. There was a mid-construction hiccup: about two months in, Trump had part of it redone because the original foundation followed the natural slope of the lawn rather than being level enough to double as a patio/event space.
It officially opened this week — Trump cut the ribbon and departed on a VH-92A for the UN General Assembly trip, which was also the first time that helicopter model had ever flown a president off the White House grounds.
So: no more grass, no more soggy shoes for the First Lady, and no cost to taxpayers, at least as structured — Sikorsky/Lockheed Martin is picking up the full tab.
