Donald J. Trump- Success will be my retribution- The White House 9 17 2026

MelissaRedpill Johnny Means II

Trumps UN speech demostrated to the world that all the pieces are already in place... he walked into the United Nations and announced that the center of gravity has already moved... "While others have talked, I have acted. While others have spoken of peace, I have made peace"...That was the spine of the entire speech... America rebuilt its border, economy, military, energy and industrial base, and is now using that strength to reshape the board across every theater we have been mapping...In the Middle East, Trump put Iran between a deal and destruction, made clear that America controls the military escalation ladder and showed that Hormuz can remain open under US protection...Trump then pointed to the Board of Peace... nearly 30 countries, billions flowing directly into reconstruction, nations contributing troops, police and training, with Trump sitting at the center... the UN endorsed it, it does not control it... 8 wars ended... that's key...Across the Western Hemisphere, Trump connected Venezuela, the cartels, Mexico and Cuba into one security architecture... Maduro removed, Venezuelan oil redirected, cartels treated as enemy combatants, Mexico pressed to reclaim its territory and Cuba told that freedom is coming...

"We are reasserting American power... in our region and around the world"... He delivered that line before walking into the Shield of the Americas event and meeting Venezuela's acting president... the speech mapped the structure... his schedule began putting it into motion...Across Europe and the Arctic, he connected the Russia-Ukraine settlement, NATO's new burden sharing structure and permanent American control over Greenland's security...Two major bases in Greenland, no hostile military presence and no sensitive foreign investment without American approval... Denmark, Greenland, Britain and Zelensky were all waiting immediately after the speech... timing is everything...

Then came the intelligence layer... Trump rejected global control of AI, renamed it Super Intelligence (SI) and said the quiet part plainly... "Whoever wins Super Intelligence wins"...

Trump also confirmed what is happening inside the UN itself... a 15% budget cut, more than 4,000 bureaucratic positions eliminated, the global carbon tax stopped, the ICC rejected, mass migration exposed and global AI control denied...This is the infinite player position... Trump is holding military force, energy, tariffs, finance, technology, territory and diplomacy at the same time... every other player is being forced to make decisions inside a field he is shaping...He gave the world the blueprint from the UN podium, then will spend the rest of the day/week meeting with the exact leaders needed to build it...Four theaters in one architecture... all in the same convergence point...Trump showed [them] the future... now it's up to [them] to choose sides... do you want to be controlled, or do you want a choice in your countries future... the time to choose, is now...

ICYMI: TRUMP COLLAPSES 29,000 GOVERNMENT WEBSITES INTO ONE — AND ORDERS EVERY AGENCY TO PLUG IN President Trump unveiled America.gov at the Andrew W. Mellon Auditorium on Tuesday — an AI-powered front door to the federal government. Breitbart reports it features a search bar that points users straight to the service they need.

Trump described the old system in blunt terms: "Instead of forcing citizens to search through the endless maze of tens of thousands of terrible government websites and rules and more than ten thousand forms… you'll now have one front door for every single question."

U.S. Chief Design Officer Joe Gebbia, the Airbnb co-founder behind TrumpRx.gov and TrumpAccounts.gov, put it in numbers: "29,000 websites in one." He said the site will handle everything from Medicare plan comparison and enrollment to checking student loans and changing your address with the Postal Service.

Then came the part every married couple will feel. Today the AI walks you through the steps to change your name across agencies. In 2027, Gebbia said, you'll be able to upload a marriage certificate, enter your new name, and the change takes effect across agencies. As he put it, "This would have taken weeks of your time, multiple filings, cutting across different agencies' websites." Trump closed by signing an executive order directing every federal agency to integrate its public-facing services directly with America.gov as soon as possible. His goal, he said: anything you need from the government "accessible at your fingertips and very quickly at your command." That's your time and your tax dollars, finally treated like they matter. Washington spent decades building the maze. Trump just built the exit.

KASH DROPS THE HIDDEN J6 FILES: FBI STAGED THE BREAKDOWN FIVE MONTHS OUT — 274 AGENTS ALREADY IN THE CROWD — DNC HAD A COUP PLAN IF TRUMP WON

By Jonathan Gregory Washington, D.C. - September 27, 2026

The vault just cracked. In a late night blast from FBI Director Kash Patel, a stack of buried Bureau memos hits the internet and detonates the official story of January 6. The papers don't whisper. They say the FBI was already writing the ending in August 2020, a scripted "breakdown" of the certification, while the DNC kept a second script in the drawer: if Trump wins, freeze the count and rip legitimacy out of the building. One line is the whole plot: provoke chaos on January 6, stop the vote, own the wreckage. Patel calls it sunlight. Washington calls it a bomb.

Then the number that won't die: 274. Two hundred seventy-four federal agents on the grounds of the official proceedings, not racing in after the glass broke, but already there, already dressed like the people they were supposed to police. The files say Bureau handlers had been living in the chat rooms for months, planting the first talk of occupation, violence, and "hold the Capitol." Christopher Wray isn't a bystander in this version. He's the producer who staffed the extras, then told Congress the camera wasn't rolling.

Rep. Clay Higgins has been screaming this into a dead mic for years. Tonight the mic is hot. The memos track the first calls for a siege back to accounts that weren't MAGA diehards. They were badges in red hats. "Wray had over 200 agents embedded, dressed as Trump supporters, before the doors were even opened," Higgins says. Follow the text threads, he argues, and the riot doesn't start with the crowd. It starts with the people who joined the crowd to aim it. January 6, in this telling, wasn't a surprise. It was a setup with a head start. @TrumpNews

Most of us could see from the start that it was a set-up. "LESS GENERALS, MORE GIS": SECRETARY OF WAR PETE HEGSETH DOUBLES THE PURGE TO 20% — AND THE COMMAND CLIMATE THAT BURIED FORT BLISS WHISTLEBLOWER RICHARD HALLIDAY IS FINALLY ON THE CHOPPING BLOCK

Defense Secretary Pete Hegseth will announce Wednesday at Quantico that he is directing all military services to double the 10% cut he ordered last spring to a 20% reduction in general and admiral billets — one- to four-star — to be completed by January 1, 2027. A 20% cut removes roughly 170 active-duty generals and admirals from the chain of command, leaving about 680 in charge. Hegseth has already fired or blocked the promotions of more than 80 generals and admirals since January 2025. His own framing: "My title is 'Less Generals More GIs.' We're going to shift resources from bloated headquarters elements to our war fighters" .

The numbers Sec. Hegseth keeps citing are the ones Team Find Richard Halliday has been shouting for five years. In World War II, the U.S. fielded 12 million troops with 17 four- and five-star generals. Today, the military has 2.1 million service members with 44 four-star generals and flag officers. That is roughly one four-star per 47,700 troops in 2025 — compared to one per 600,000 in 1945. The modern Pentagon is top-heavy by a factor of twelve — and that top-heavy structure is the same structure that sat on a missing soldier's file for five years.

And the Halliday case is the proof of what that bloat costs. When the Fort Bliss whistleblower Soldier Richard Halliday was murdered on base in July 2020, Maj. Gen. Sean C. Bernabe — the commanding general — waited until November 17, 2020 to direct an investigation into the unit's command climate. The investigation interviewed 52 soldiers, pulled four command climate surveys, and found the unit was under "substantial strain" with "a general sentiment of low morale". It "cleared" the leadership of toxic behavior. And it took the Army four months to even ask whether the battalion that murdered a whistleblower Soldier had a problem. The Army then told the Halliday family their son was missing — a lie it maintained for years until the Department of War finally ruled he was killed on Fort Bliss "in the line of duty" in retaliation in January 2025. Richard's reports were blocked. His transfer request was denied. The command ordered a Code Red to smear and silence Richard. His body was stolen off base and trafficked to Mexico. That is not a command failure. That is bureaucratic bloat that became a national security breach — and it bought an infiltrated transnational terrorist fuel-theft and trafficking network the time it needed to cover its tracks. That is not negligence. That is treason.

HEGSETH: AMERICA IS BUILDING A NEW BASE FOR UP TO 25,000 TROOPS At Quantico today, Pete Hegseth made the fourth announcement of his State of the Force address, and it is the one the troops will remember. "We haven't built a new base in this country in 40 years. That ends now", he said. The Pentagon is asking every governor and every state adjutant general to submit a sales pitch to host between 15,000 and 25,000 troops. …Think about what the states get out of it: thousands of soldiers, airmen, Marines and Guardians and their families, a permanent economic engine, and the honor of hosting them. Expect governors to fight for it. For years the standard for the people who defend this country was whatever was cheapest. Hegseth is setting it at "the gold standard".

Actor Gary Sinise has spent more than two decades personally visiting American troops overseas and at home, a commitment that began with the launch of his Lt. Dan Band in 2003 and has since grown into one of the largest veteran-support operations run by a celebrity in the country. Sinise founded the Gary Sinise Foundation in 2011, building on years of USO work and concerts performed at military bases around the world with the band, named for his character in Forrest Gump. Since then the organization has become a full-scale veterans' charity, running programs that build mortgage-free, specially adapted smart homes for severely wounded service members, provide adapted vehicles and mobility equipment through its R.I.S.E. program, and serve meals to troops at bases, airports, and hospitals both in the United States and abroad. The foundation's own tallies show the scale of that reach. As of 2026, it has completed or has underway 104 custom homes for severely wounded heroes, served 1,439,622 appreciation meals, and performed 621 Lt. Dan Band concerts since 2003. Its Military Hospital Festivals, which pair a concert with a fair-like atmosphere for children and a meal for patients, have drawn 126,720 attendees among wounded veterans, their families, caregivers, and medical staff.

Financially, the foundation has raised more than $400 million for wounded veterans, first responders, and their families since 2011, and reported total revenue and donations of $100 million for fiscal year 2026 alone, covering April 2025 through March 2026. The organization says 90 cents of every dollar donated goes directly toward supporting service members, veterans, first responders, and their families. The foundation has also expanded into mental health care, launching the Avalon Network in 2021 to address traumatic brain injury and post-traumatic stress among veterans and first responders, a network kick-started by $20 million donations from each of the co-founders of The Home Depot. Nearly one in three military personnel deployed to war zones since 2001 has been affected by TBI or PTS, according to the foundation, underscoring the demand behind that expansion.

In 1993, the Idaho Watersheds Project (IWP) was born[1]. This marked the beginning of an unyielding campaign against livestock grazing on public land across the American West[2]. Architected by founder Jon Marvel, IWP—later renamed Western Watersheds Project (WWP)—pioneered a strategy of leveraging federal environmental laws and administrative appeals to challenge grazing rights. By weaponizing regulatory mandates and litigating management decisions, the organization targeted traditional public-land ranching operations. Critics point to WWP's legal framework and non-profit tax status, arguing that taxpayer funds subsidize actions that destabilize rural agricultural communities. Through persistent litigation and structural pressure, the group continues its decades-long effort to eliminate commercial livestock operations from public range.

Founder Forrest Lucas of Lucas Oil highlights the mission of Protect the Harvest to counter these legal tactics and safeguard agricultural producers[3]. He stresses that advocacy groups exploit regulatory loopholes to undermine traditional livestock practices and threaten the livelihood of working ranches. Ultimately, the battle over public land grazing reflects a deep divide between litigation-driven environmental policy and the preservation of Western rural economies. The continued survival of traditional range livestock operations depends on balancing regulatory oversight with support for the agricultural communities that steward the land.
